Introduction

Geographic Landscape

Brief description of local HIV epidemic

San Francisco is home to one of the largest populations of people living with HIV (PLWH) in the United States. Most service centers are focused on the Mid-Market/Tenderloin neighborhood where approximately 16,000 PLWH reside.

HIV Prevalence by Race/Ethnicity

HIV Prevalence by Risk

74% Viral suppression
33% homeless or unstably housed
2.5% unemployed or underemployed

The Challenge

San Francisco has become infamous for its homeless population and its extreme unaffordability. 14% of people with new HIV diagnoses in San Francisco are homeless and just 32% are virally suppressed. Many people experiencing homelessness also struggle with substance use and mental health issues.

Key Partnerships

Focus population

- PLWH
- Uninsured/Underinsured
- Unemployed/Underemployed
- Homeless/Unstably Housed

The Program Model

Lessons Learned

* HRSA Acknowledgement

This project was supported by the Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA) of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) under grant number U9OHA31449 Special Projects of National Significance (SPNS) Initiative, Improving Health Outcomes Through the Coordination of Supportive Employment & Housing Services, in the amount of $700,000 awarded to PRC. No percentage of this project was financed with non-governmental sources. ## Key Innovation

PRC provides in-house Employment and Benefits Counseling services that offer a rich array of wrap-around supports to improve the lives of PLWH. By integrating these on-site services with our critical Housing Intervention model, the IHA program provides a unique set of supports to prevent homelessness for our most vulnerable clients.

Preliminary Outcomes

Individual level

System level

PRC is just minutes from the entrance of the Tenderloin District where many of our clients reside. Having one centralized location where clients can access emergency grants to prevent homelessness, receive employment services and engage with attorneys on SSI/SSDI disability related advocacy allows for clients to receive resources under one roof. Our integrated services center also allows staff to provide up to the minute coordination of care, quickly cross-refer clients for necessary services, and communicate directly and in person to problem solve issues for our clients.
